

Design choices

Bar colours:

- Above zero degrees a warm colour (purple)
- Below zero degrees a cold colour (blue)

X axis:

- Colour: black, it is readable everywhere (including the blue bar)
- Line: visible (without last tick) so that it is clear where zero degrees is
- No title, because it is rarely done in a bar chart with positive and negative values and because it's clear from the title and the text under the ticks.

Title:

- Colour: black, because there are otherwise too much colours (too restless)

Letter spacing:

- A bit more than usual for readability

Hover:

- Colour: grey (not too much colour)
- Text above bar, for uniformity and readability